CHILD CURED BY RELIC.

Alleged Working of Miracle at the that the genius of management of such club Novena of St. Anne.

New York Evening Post. A miracle, attested as such by a dozen or more of the neighbors of the little sufferer, was performed his noon at the Church of St. Jean Baptiste in East Seventy-sixth street. A child, who for more than three years has walked with difficulty, was taken to the basement of the church, where the relic of St. Anne, mother of the Virgin Mary, was presented to her to kiss. She kissed the sacred relic, a portion of the wrist bone of the saint, and was led from the church by her mother. Half an hour later she returned to the church basement, it is stated, apparently well and strong, and carrying in her arms the iron braces she has worn since April, 1899.

The child is Marian Oates, seven years old, of No. 172 East Eighty-second street. She has no conception of what has happened to her, and only knows that her pain is gone. It was pitiful to see the manner in which the other mothers who throng the altar of St. Anne regarded the cure: to the seaboard, meeting the rate made by Many a woman whose arms held a poor some of its competitors. misshapen atom of humanity wept as she saw the little Marian run down the center aisle and redoubled her prayers to the

"Of course, we cannot account for it, Mr. Oates said. "The good God has performed a miracle in answer to our constant prayer. This Kan., has ben promoted to general agent morning I brought her here; she was here of the freight and passenger department also Saturday, and she kissed the blessed at New Orleans. relic of St. Anne. When we went home, she said she felt better, and asked me to remove the brace that she might lie down. I did so. She had a little sleep, and then walked to me in the kitchen as if she had never been sick. Her hip was well, and all the pain and weakness had left her back. God has been good to us."

"Union" Houses.

Boston Herald.

For some time the public has been warned to wear only union-made clothes. to smoke only union-made cigars and to drink only union-made beer. Now the Brooklyn Eagle declares that the Building Trades Union has devised a metal plaque, which is to be put on every house constructed by carpenters, masons and laborers who belong to a union. The houses not bearing this plaque will thus be advertised as non-union, and inferentially they will be boycotted by union tenants and possibly all who live in them will be boycotted. This would bring about a serious state of things. Perhaps the rule will not be retroactive, so that those of us who now live in houses built by we know not what workmen before the plaque was devised can stay in them without being mobbed. It might be thought that a man could object to having such a decoration, or defacement, whichever it may be, put on his house. But who will have the courage to do without it, remembering what sometimes happens to non-sympathizers when a strike is on? The worst is that, when this practice comes into vogue, the number of poorly built houses will be construction that bears the union plaque.

THE LOCAL LINES SHOW A GAIN OF NEARLY 1,400 LOADED CARS.

New Wheat and Oats Begin to Move-Railroad Y. M. C. A. Will Have a Handsome Building.

The train records show that in the week ended July 26 a total of 28,730 cars, 20,991 being loaded, were handled at Indianapolis. This was an increase over the preceding week of 1,390 loaded cars, but fully 170 below that of the corresponding week last year. The empty car movement is unusually large, and indications are that through the operation of the per-diem plan of charging for cars the empty car movement will be larger than in times past. It is stated that the Pennsylvania lines have decided to haul their cars as far as possible on their own system, and having now some 200,000 cars in service will be better able to take care of their business than in former years. A majority of the Indianapolis lines are well provided with cars to handle their own business, but in time past their equpiment ing three natives to be shot by Macabebe has been curtailed by allowing their cars to go off their own lines. Confectioners are having a dull trade, as is usual in July, but next month some improvement is looked for. On Commission row trade has been good, and on fruits a high range of prices is the feature, melons excepted. All kinds of vegetables are selling at lower prices, even lower than at the corresponding period of last year, and the supply is ample to meet the demand, both in fruits and vegetables. The produce markets continue in the strong position of several weeks past, poultry, eggs and choice butter being fast movers at prices quoted, which range con-Chairman Pratt, of the Southwestern siderably higher than last year. Products of corn and oats age in good request and eral passenger agent of the Missouri, Kan- are selling at high figures, as compared with former years, and such prices are likely to prevail until fall crops are on the reorganization plan on which all the roads | market and the prices of fresh meats decline. Traveling salesmen report the outlook for a big fall trade as very promising.
